HERE COMES THE BRIDE Have your own red-carpet moment in Roland's ivory silk tulle gown with mosaic scatter beading ($12,990).

Best Dressed

Pamella Roland branches into bridal with a sparkingly stunning debut collection.

With a brain for business and an eye for the arts, designer Pamella Roland launched her eponymous label in 2002 and has reigned on the red carpet ever since, dressing Hollywood's most stylish starlets. Known for her sophisticated yet sultry gowns, Roland turned her talents toward bridal for the first time this fall. "When my daughter became engaged to be married earlier this year, the timing was perfect to launch a focused collection of very special bridal gowns," she explains. The 11-piece inaugural line has something for everyone, ranging from short and sweet shifts beaded with pearls and crystals to full-skirted gowns fit for a princess. Roland drew her inspiration from nature and ice crystals, and almost every gown in the collection features some sort of beautiful beading sure to add sparkle to your special day. $5,590-$17,990, Kleinfeld Bridal, 646.633.4300, pamellaroland.com —PW
